Faculty Encourages Liberal Arts Education

The English Department and the Foreign Language Department have been combined into the Department of Language and Literature. The new arrangement is practical in enabling several members of the department to teach courses in their minor as well as in their major field. It is philosophically sound in stressing both the language and literature aspects of all English courses and all but the most elementary foreign language courses. It also encourages the development in this area of a faculty with an abridged liberal arts education rather than a narrow specialization.

Math Department adds new dimensions; teacher joins staff

For another year, the minds of ULS students have been tested by many different math courses offered in the Upper School. Both advanced and regular math tracks are offered with some students taking a two year Calculus program which finishes in the taking of the Math Advanced Placement Exam. For students less oriented to the advanced concepts, courses are offered that emphasize basic concepts that are not so abstract.

The Science of today is the technology of tomorrow

The popularity of Science continues to grow at ULS. Many students now elect to take science for four years which made it necessary to add another room to accommodate all interested students. Most students begin with IPS in ninth grade and then proceed onto courses which include Biology, Chemistry, Physics and a number of other choices in these same areas for more advanced students. All courses put great emphasis on problem solving and analyzing experiments. In addition to these regulary offered courses, Advanced Placement Preparation and a course in CPR are also offered. Science has come a long way since the addition of the new wing and students are now more than ever discovering the many concepts that are important to a good understanding of Science.

Oooo I'm getting excited!

The basic goal of the Social Studies — to examine the nature and structure of societies past and present — does not change. The contemporary occupations of both teachers and students do serve, however, to shift the emphasis from one content area to another. Newer offerings include a more detailed study of World War II, the presidency and our recent social history as viewed by selected American writers. It is the departmental hope that the need for both continuity and change are thus being met.

Extras... Extras

U.L.S. students again continued to actively participate in non-academic activities.

Musical groups had many concerts which included fall and spring programs, performances at the Christmas Festival and a Musical Department benefit performance by the Jazz Ensemble. The Art Department continued to flourish under the direction of Mr. Schrom as a majority of students made art their first choice for an elective. Mechanics and Woodworks provide another area of interest for many students and especially those who had cars in need of repairs. Mrs. Fleming continued to reign supreme at the U.L.S. Sewing Center which has received support through the years.

If students could not find enjoyment in any of these areas, Typing, Speech, Religion and Art and Music were excellent opportunities available to round out a varied and interesting selection of activities.

When we are born, we cry that we are come to this great stage of fools.

LEAR, King Lear

"You must know everything and then begin. You must have great understanding, or accomplish a fall . . . Think everything, good, bad, indifferent; everything, and do everything, everything! Try to know what you are before you die."

Djuna Barnes, Aller et Retour

ELIZABETH WATIES ANDREWS

1970 - 1977

"Now to sum up . . . Now to explain to you the meaning of my life. Since we do not know each other (though I met you once I thing on board a ship going to Africa) we can talk freely. The illusion is upon me that something adheres for a moment, has roundness, weight, depth, is completed. This, for the moment, seems to be my life. If it were possible, I would hand it to you entire. I would break it off as one breaks off a bunch of grapes. I would say, 'Take it. This is my life,' . . .

Thus when I come to shape here at this table between my hands the story of my life and set it before you as a complete thing, I have to recall things gone far, gone deep, sunk into this life or that and become part of it; dreams, too, things surrounding me, those half-articulate ghosts who keep up their hauntings by day and night; who turn over in their sleep, who utter their confused cries, who put out their phantom fingers and clutch at me as I try to escape — shadows of people one might have been; unborn selves . . ."

And I have come a long, long way
Just to play for you
My life is but a song

Just to say to you.
To say I love you yes I do
And I'd like for you to be
Whatever you would like to be
You'll always be special to me.

And watches o'er you night and day,
bless you, Keep you, walk with you
Through all keep Faith, and God be true.

Two roads diverged in a yellow wood,
And sorry I could not travel both
And be one traveler, long I stood
And looked down one as far as I could
To where it bent in the undergrowth;

Then took the other, as just as fair,
And having perhaps the better claim,
Because it was grassy and wanted wear;
Though as for that the passing there
Had worn them really about the same,

And both that morning equally lay
In leaves no step had trodden black.
Oh; I kept the first for another day!
Yet knowing how way leads on to way,
I doubted if I should ever come back.

I shall be telling this with a sigh
Some where ages and ages hence:
Two roads diverged in a wood, and I —
I took the one less traveled by,
And that has made all the difference.

BARTER

Life has loveliness to sell,
  All beautiful splendid things,
Blue waves whitened on a cliff,
  Soaring fire that sways and sings,
And children's faces looking up,
  Holding wonder like a cup.

Life has loveliness to sell,
  Music like a curve of gold,
Scent of pine trees in the rain,
  Eyes that love you, arms that hold,
And for your spirit's still delight,
  Holy thoughts that star the night.

Spend all you have for loveliness,
  Buy it and never count the cost;
For one white singing hour of peace
  Count many a year of strife well lost,
And for a breath of ecstacy
  Give all you have been, or could be.

Will be in '87: Still fighting dragons, playing on swing sets and loving this fairy-tale world.

For I have learned
To look on nature, not as in the hour
Of thoughtless youth, but hearing often times
The still, sad music of humanity
Nor harsh nor grating, though of ample power
To chasten and subdue. And I have felt
A presence that disturbs me with the joy
Of elevated thoughts; a sense sublime
Of something far more deeply interfused,
Whose dwelling is the light of setting suns,
And the round ocean and the living air,
And the blue sky, and the mind of man;
A motion and a spirit, that impels
All thinking things, all objects of thought,
And rolls through all things. Therefore am I still
A lover of meadows and the woods,
And mountains; and of all that we behold
From this green earth; of all the mighty world
Of eye and ear . . .

Let me not to the marriage of true minds
Admit impediments. Love is not love
Which alters when it alteration finds,
Or bends with the remover to remove:
O, no! it is an ever-fixed mark,
That looks on tempests and is never shaken;
It is the star to every wandering bark,
Whose worth's unknown, although his height be taken.
Love's not Time's fool, though rosy lips and cheeks
Within his bending sickle's compass come;
Love alters not with his brief hours and weeks,
But bears it out even to the edge of doom.
If this be error, and upon me prov'd.,
I never writ, nor no man ever lov'd.

Will Be In '87 — Still wondering what I should have here.

We arrive in this world alone
We depart alone
This time called life
Was meant to share.

If you love something
Very very much
Let it go free
If it does not come back
It was never meant to be yours
But if it does
Love it forever.

Standing at the crossroads
Trying to read the signs
To tell me which way I should go
To find the answers.

Well in the end I'll know, but on the way I wonder through descending snow, and through the frost and thunder, I listen to the wind come howl, telling me I have to hurry. I listen to the robin's song saying not to worry, ooh. So on and on I go, the seconds ticking the time out, there's so much to know, and I'm on the road to find out, ohh.

— Cat Stevens

Well you've cracked the sky, scrapers filled the air, but will you keep on building higher 'till there's no more room up there, Will you tell us when to live, will you tell us when to die. I know we've come a long way, we're changing day to day. But tell me, Where d'th'ch'ldr'n play.

"High on Sunshine"

Driftin' on the life that I'm livin'
Life's too short to bother me.
Give me room to see where I'm goin'
All I want is to be stone free,
Free like the wind that blows.

Shine on the world of peace and freedom
Shine on you people hard as stone.
I hope you see the storm that's in the valley
I hope you see your right from wrong,
Open your mind and see.

Work so hard for money
But money only buys me pain
I'm free and easy.
Cause I'm high on sunshine
Life's my way,
High on sunshine
Take all my blues away.

Sailin' in my mind a fancy color
I see the world through rainbow shades.
But people make my colors such a hastle
Sometimes I wish they'd all fade away.
Changes we'll all go through.

DEDICATION:
To my parents I give love and thanks for their love and guidance. To my brothers I give appreciation for teaching me the things every sister should know. And to William W. Gilbert, I give my love and this page.

Will be in '87 — Still bringing love, warmth, and smiles into that someone special's life.

I don't need no doctor
To give me my piece of mind
I'm free forever.

Cause I'm high on sunshine
Life's my way,
High on sunshine
Take all my blues away.

Anthony C. Ruda

Music is the mediator between the spiritual and the sensual life. Although the spirit be not master of that which it creates through music, yet it is blessed in this creation, which, like every creation of art, is mightier than the artist.
Beethoven

The more we study, the more we discover our ignorance.
Shelley

We all know sometimes life's hates and troubles can make you wish you were born in another time and space. But you can bet your life times that and twice it's double that God knew exactly where he wanted you to be placed. So make sure when you say you're in it but not of it. You're not helping to make this earth a place sometimes called Hell. Change your words into truths and then change that truth into love, and maybe our children's grandchildren, and heir great-great grand children will tell.
Stevie Wonder

And it's a fair wind, Blowin' warm out of the South over my shoulder. Guess I'll set a course and go. D. Crosby - S. Stills

We are as clouds that veil the midnight moon; How restlessly they speed, and gleam, and quiver, Streaking the darkness radiantly! — yet soon, Night closes round, and they are lost for ever; Or like forgotten lyres, whose dissonant strings, Give various response to each varying blast, To whose frail frame no second motion brings, One mood or modulation like the last. We rest. — A dream has power to poison sleep; We rise. — One wandering thought pollutes the day; We feel, conceive or reason, laugh or weep; Embrace fond woe, or cast our cares away; It is the same! — For, be it joy or sorrow, The path of its departure still is free: Man's yesterday may ne'er be like his morrow; Nought may endure but Mutability. Percy Bysshe Shelley

Breathe, breathe in the air
Don't be afraid to care
Leave but don't leave me
Look around and choose your own ground
For long you live and high you fly
And smiles you'll give and tears you'll cry
And all you touch and all you see
Is all your life will ever be

Run, run rabbit run
Dig that hole, forget the sun,
And when at last the work is done
Don't sit down it's time to start another one
For long you live and high you fly
But only if you ride the tide
And balanced on the biggest wave
You race toward an early grave

To find the answer look inside for if its is not there it was never meant to be found.

Be yourself. Especially do not feign affection. Neither be cynical about love; for in the face of all aridity it is as perennial as the grass. With all its sham, drudgery and broken dreams it is still a beautiful world. Be careful. Strive to be happy.

God grant me the Serenity to accept the things I cannot change, Courage to change the things I can and the wisdom to know the difference.

High on the sunlit silence. Hov'ring there,
I've chased the shouting wind along, and fing
My eager craft through footless halls of air.

Up, up and long, delerious, blue
I've topped the wind-swept heights with easy grace
Where never lark, nor even eagle flow—

The most important thing in any relationship is not what you get but what you give. It does not hurt to worship at a shrine which is quite unconscious, for out of it may grow an inner development in yourself and sometimes a relationship of real value. In any case the giving of love is an education in itself.

A.E.R.

I hope the day will be a lighter highway,
for friends are found on every road.
Can you ever think of any better way for the lost and weary travelers to go?

Making friends for the world to see,
let the people know you got what you need.
With a friend at hand you will see the light,
if your friends are there then everything's all right

It seems to me a crime that we should age, these fragile times should never slip us by.
A time you never can or shall erase as friends together watch their childhood fly

There are places I'll remember, all my life, though some have changed; Some for ever, not for better, so some have gone and some remain. All these places have their moments, with lovers and friends, I still can recall. Some are dead and some are living. In my life, I've loved them all.

MARICIA MARY McBRIEN
1973 - 1977

I'm not in my first year of college yet, and already I find myself looking back on my years at ULS with nostalgia. I've come away with good friends and good memories. Some of my best moments are recorder here, as a memorial to these last four years: Mr. Trofi's annual Pomegranate Parties; the French II balloon escapade; the biology field trip with the haples and helpless Annette and Kitty; my trip to the Senior room as a sophomore, on Sue Nieman's assurance that "nobody would mind"; Mrs. Munger's drama class, and the outlandish productions we astonished the school with; reading the account of the birth of Christ in Latin I with Dr. Fields. Periscope, and my many sundry articles for that infamous publication; the making of an edior; Phases, and the intermediate meetings of the editorial. The chemistry field trip, with Kitty, two bottles of silver nitrate, and three drops of disilled water; the immortal phrase "What can I say?"

An undertaking of great advantage, but nobody to know what it is.

Sue Wolf's offers to take me on the road rally, if I would navigate; her driving ability, which she willed to me. Field hockey with Miss Brock; track with Mrs. Kurrap. Fay and Katherine Hepburn; Kitty and the Manhattan Transfer, Laura and Elton John. French with Miss Ferguson; Latin with Dr. Fields; English with Mr. Trofi. My party in the ninth grade, and the deep discussions that we had until 6:00 A.M.; all my wierd and wonderful friends; my jeremiads concerning the cafeteria; my "pickiness" about the food ("Now we know where the chow mein came from, don't we?"). The people who helped me hounded me, and came through for me; their name is legion, and I can't thank them enough.

In closing I would like to thank my friends, teachers, and especially my family, for four great years. May the next four, and all the years to follow, be as good to everyone.

To sing, to laugh, to dream,
To walk in my own way and be alone,
Free, with an eye to see things as they are,
At a word, a "Yes". a "No",
To fight-or write, To travel any road
Under the sun, under the stars, nor doubt
If fame or fortune lie beyond the bourne-
Never to make a line I have no heard
In my own heart; yet, with all modesty
To say: "My soul, be satisfied with flowers,
With fruit, with weeds even: but gather them
In the one garden you may call your own."
So, when I win some triumph, by some chance,
Render no share to Caesar — in a word,
I am too proud to be a paresite,
And if my nature wants the germ that grows
Towering to heaven like the mountain pine,
Or like the oak, sheltering multitudes—
I stand, not high it may be — but alone!

Edmond Rostand, Cyrano de Bergerac

Sonnet to a Sister in Error

"Whilst the dull mamage of a servile house is held by some our utmost art and use."
—Anne, Countess of Winchilsea

Sweet Anne of Winchilsae, you were no hellion intent on setting the broad world to rocking.
The long court dress concealed the long blue stocking,
the easy manner masked the hard rebellion.
With light foot stirruped on the Muses' stallion
you ambled privately, afraid of shocking
the maids of Honor who excelled at mocking the matchless rose with stiches small and million.
Staunch Anne! I know your trouble. The same tether galls up. To be a woman and a writer is double mischief, for the world will slight her who slights the "servile house" and who would rather make odes than beds. Lost lady! Gentle fighter!
Separate in time, we mutiny together.

I'll Say Good-Bye

Now that the summer's come and gone I'll say good-bye
Now that the winter's comin' I'll say good-bye.
I'm not the first man or the last
Who had a thirst to leave the past.
So while the autumn rain is falling I'll say good-bye.

For every star that falls to the earth a new one glows.
For every dream that fades away a new one grows.
When things are not what they would seem
You must keep following your dream.
So while my heart is still believing I'll say good-bye.

Love is a sweet thing caught a moment
And held in a golden eye.
You can borrow but never own it
After a while it says good-bye.

I don't ask you to discuss the universe with me
Or meditate upon the creation of life,
But if we choose to converse on such topics, I wouldn't mind at all.
You don't guard your knowledge and force
me to steal that which I desire.
You share your jewel with me and through its radiance and brilliance
I have acquired a yearning to glow and grow continuously.
I probe and question and challenge and am overcome at times by your gifts but am always willing to receive them and am desirous of being a giver, myself, someday.
In life our past becomes our foundation for the future.
I am grateful to you for having fitted securely the cornerstone of my life.

S.M.T.

My heart leaps up when I behold
A rainbow in the sky:
So was it when my life began;
So it is now I am a man;
So be it when I shall grow old,
Or let me die!
The Child is father of the Man;
And I could wish my days to be Bound each to each by natural piety.

DESODERATA

Go placidly amid the noise and haste, and remember what peace there may be in silence. As far as possible without surrender be on good terms with all persons. Speak your truth quietly and clearly; and listen to others even the dull and ignorant; they too have their story.

Avoid loud and aggressive persons, they are vexations to the spirit. If you compare yourself with others, you may become vain and bitter; for always there will be greater and lesser persons than yourself. Enjoy your achievements as well as your plans.

Keep interested in your own career, however humble; it is a real possession in the changing fortunes of time. Exercise caution in your business affairs; for the world is full of trickery. But let us not blind you to what virtue there is; many persons strive for high ideals; and everywhere life is full of heroism.

Be yourself. Especially, do not feign affection. Neither be cynical about love, for in the face of all aridity and disenchantment it is perennial as the grass.

Take kindly the counsel of the years, gracefully surrendering the things of youth. Nurture strength of spirit to shield you in sudden misfortune. But do not distress yourself with imaginings. Many fears are born of fatique and loneliness Beyond a wholesome discipline, be gentle with yourself.

You are a child of the universe, no less than the trees and the stars you have a right to be here. And whether or not it is clear to you, no doubt the universe is unfolding as it should.

Therefore be at peace with God, whatever you concieve Him to be, and whatever your labors and aspirations, in the noisy confusion of life keep peace with your soul.

With all its sham, drudgery and broken dreams, it is still a beautiful world. Be careful. Strive to be haoot.

Knights beat DCDS!! They Won The CUP

ULS football was a rebuilding season in '76. Unfortunately the rebuilding season turned out to be a losing season. Nobody expected the 17 man squad with only three seniors to be a very competitive team, but then the surprises began. St. Andrews fell under the ax. Lutheran North was played to a standoff for four quarters and three overtimes. Hamtramck, this season's spoilers, dropped in overtime. Harper Woods bowed gracefully at their own homecoming. ULS lost to co-champions of the conference, Lutheran West after holding the lead for the first half. Then in the final game, ULS dominated archrival Yellow-Jackets from the opening kick-off when Jr. halfback, Will Hummel returned the kick-off for 6 points, and Jr. defensive end, Tom Graves intercepted a pass and ran for the second tounchdown of the game.

This rebuilding team bewildered their opponents with a new offense — the Triple Option. The offense has been called a sophisticated game of monkey in the middle. Next year the team will have two returning All-Conference backs and the defense will be experienced and aggressive with 10 of 11 starters back. Keep the Cup!

A plague of injuries leads to a 5-2-8 season

The Varsity Soccer Team's great expectations for the state tournament were, unfortunately, dashed by the Cranbrook team this year. In spite of an unimpressive win-loss record, U.L.S. was certainly in every contest and played extremely well against some of the best teams in the state. This years most valuable player, for the second year in the row, was Ruben Gomez. The most improved player was Brian Hirt. Matt Wysoski and Ruben Gomez were the team captains.

JV Soccer team finishes triumphantly with first undefeated season

Spurred on by the enthusiastic coaching of Luis Gomez this year's J.V. soccer team turned in an undefeated season that will go down as one of the best in the school's history. The season included two defeats of arch rival D.C.D.S. as well as other victories over strong teams. Outstanding players included Jeff Kling, Woody Thibodeau and John Kavadas. The team was marked by a great deal of spirit that complemented the real talent displayed by the players. There is no doubt that next year's varsity will be much improved as the players from this year's J.V. will definitely add a great deal of talent to the team.

JV Football has successful season

The JV football team had a successful season under new coaches Welsh and Markey. The teams five wins and two losses was highlighted by a convincing victory over the Yellow-Jackets of D.C.D.S. The team was marked with a great deal of spirit while coached with new coaches and a new offense produced a very good effort in all games. The sophomores were aided by a number of able freshmen who will continue to help the J.V. next year. The Varsity can look forward to some good talent next year as the sophomores advance to the Varsity level after finishing a very satisfying season.

Varsity field hockey ends season with 10 wins!

Continuing in the footsteps of the past years, the field hockey teams had a very strong season. With almost half the major players gone to college, the season started with both J.V. and Varsity holding quite a few younger, inexperienced, yet eager to learn team players. The J.V. team comprised almost two complete teams in order to compensate for the eleven seniors leaving from both teams.

The opponents did not change for the '76 season. Sacred Heart, always posing a threat to the team, defeated the varsity, but ULS came back later in the season to prove themselves by giving them a defeat in one of the best games of the season. The ULS loss was the first in three seasons.

Entertaining Cleveland teams, Mrs. Tolleson's goodies, the flourescent pinnies, and the opening ceremonies of each game were highlights of the season.

The success of the year must be attributed equally to the offense and defense. The defense stood their ground, both in games and in practices. This year's teams had the enthusiasm to go out and win, and with this determination behind them, they did.

Obie leads girls' tennis on to another victorious season

The girls' tennis team had a good year even though they were forced to adjust to a new season and a new coach. The girls won a majority of their regular season matches and swept all the doubles and singles in the regional tournament. The following week part of the team went to the state tournament. Battling the unreasonable weather as well as the other girls, Merrill Robinson and Lisa Black won the "B" division of the doubles championship. Judy Hodges lost in the semi-finals and others were eliminated in the earlier rounds.

All in all, the season was successful. However, with so many seniors on this year's team, it will be a challenge for the remainder of the girls to keep up the winning tennis tradition in future seasons.

Varsity Basketball gains experience

The Basketball team suffered through a very frustrating season. Lack of height and experience handicapped the Knights as they played a number of teams with great experience and depth. The Knights record did not indicate the amount of work and improvement shown by the team as the season progressed. Coach Haklin is to be commended for his great patience with the team as he never gave up throughout the entire season. The team's improvement was evident as they suffered a one point loss to Country Day and came very close against Harper Woods, Lutheran North and Inter City Christian. The Knights hope that next years seniors experience can make next season a more successful one.

Hockey team comes up with a great season

The U.L.S. Hockey team completed another successful season with the addition of some new talent as well as continued support from team veterans. The team finished the season with a league record of 13 wins and 7 losses, and an overall mark of 19 wins and 9 losses. Top point getters were Jon Wardwell, John Hastings, and Mark Gulyas as they were in the top twenty of the league scoring standings.

Interesting points of the season included two unusual games against Pontiac Catholic as the Knights won by scores of 8 to 0, and 24 to 3 keeping their opponents and new energetic scorekeeper very busy. The Knights also encountered an Ecorse team that was more concerned about fighting than playing hockey.

The Knights had high hopes for the state tournament, but came up short against an excellent Lakeview team. While the tournament loss was a disappointment, the Knights are to be commended for playing very exciting, winning hockey.

This season, the girls provided all the excitement on the basketball court. The team had an undefeated season as they beat many tough opponents. Under the continued able direction of Fred Scott, the team played strong consistent basketball for the entire season. The girls demolished D.C.D.S., which has become a tradition of the basketball team. The team was led by seniors Margaret Hindle, Lisa Black, Julie Johnson and Judy Hodges, all who have displayed a great deal of ability. Next year's team will have to play very well to make up for the loss of the seniors on the team.

Volleyball improves immensely

The Volleyball team's season was marked by great spirit and enthusiasm as well as a good record led by co-captains Birgir Mahner and Joy Dickson, the team finished with a regular season record of 5 wins and 2 losses. The team also placed second in a tournament with Kingswood, Socred Heart, D.C.D.S., and Greenhills. For the first time, the team played in the state volleyball tournament. They reached the semi-finals of the regionals, which was an excellent showing for the team's first entry into the state tournament. Next year's season promises to be even better as almost all o fthe team will be returning.

Seeds of homecoming planted

The seeds of a Homecoming were planted during the Spring of 1976 by Viking Urban and reaped this fall by the student body. Homecoming with the traditional float, queens, and dance have long been absent from the U-L scene. Upper School Council granted permission for the event after many meetings with the committee. Previous student apathy had to be overcome in order for full student body participation. Pom-pom parties were held, a float was decorated, pennants were sold, queens elected, and a dance was held in the gym. From a small beginning, it appears that Homecoming is here to stay and will grow in spirit, stature, and participation.

Snap!

This is Ford Motor Company's very own way for putting together many electrical connections.

Anybody can put 'em together. You can't put 'em together half way. You can't put 'em together wrong.

And when you got it together (Snap!) no way should they come apart. When you own a Ford, Mercury, or Lincoln car with snap connectors, you shouldn't have to worry about these electrical connections.

Ford

It's simple. Ford wants to be your car company.

CHARGER
The night belongs to Charger.
If your pulse quickens after dark, Charger is your car. Charger has a look that was shaped for the night. An excitement to match your mood when you've left the day behind.
Close yourself in Charger, and the dark lights up. You're hugged by high-back bucket seats. Before you, a full array of controls for night cruising. A standard 318 V8 links to the TorqueFlite automatic transmission to let you glide around all those everyday cars.
When the sun goes down and the lights come up, move into Charger time. Some of us were born for the night. Now we have a car that belongs to us... Charger. Get one at your Dodge Dealer's.

CONGRATULATIONS TO THE CLASS OF '77.

Mr. & Mrs.

Dwight P. Black

I just want to thank everyone who got ads for me. There is no way to thank the 20 of you who contributed time to go out & get ads. Thanks also goes to the many who offered to help through the year. Although often it was only a job for 2 hands, the effort was appreciated.
Special thanks goes to my boss, Mike Cobane! don't know how he handled the entire yearbook himself (with the help of some dedicated students) but he did it. It was great!

Thanx!

BEST OF LUCK
